CHAPTER I.

THE FIRST DIVISION OF THE TUAT, WHICH IS CALLED NET-RĀ.

IN the scene that illustrates the FIRST DIVISION of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the FIRST HOUR of the night, we see that the centre of the middle section is divided lengthwise into

The Boat of Āf, the dead Sun-god.

two parts by a river which flows along it. In the upper part is the boat of the dead Sun-god Āf, , who is in the form of a ram-headed man; he wears a disk upon his head, and stands within a shrine in the SEKTET boat, i.e., the boat in which the god travels from noon to sunset. In front of the shrine in the boat stand the three deities, ĀP-UAT, , SA, , and the "Lady of the Boat," , who wears on her head a disk and horns. Behind the shrine stand five gods, each having the head of a man; the names of the first four are HERU-HEKENU,   , KA-SHU,  , i.e., the "double of Shu," NEHES,  , i.e., the "Look-out," and HĪU,  , and the fifth is the Steersman KHERP,   . On the high prow of the Sektet boat hangs an object which is said to be a carpet by some, and a reed mat by others, and on the side, near the curve of the prow, is an utchat. In front of the boat march:—

1. The two goddesses MAĀT, the one representing the South of Egypt, and the other the North.

2. The god NEKENT-F,  , who holds a spear, or knife, in his left hand.

3. The god KHENTI ĀMENTET, bearded, and in mummy form, and wearing the White Crown and the Menāt.

4. The god SEKHET, or as it is written here SEKHMET,  , lioness-headed.

5. The god SEHETCH-UR,   , ram-headed.

6. Four Terms, the first of which is called UT-METU-RĀ,

, the second UT-METU-TEM, , and the fourth UT-METU-ĀSĀR, .

7. The leader of the company, who is called TCHA-UNNUT, ; by his side is a serpent, called SA (?), that stands on his tail.

The gods Kenti-Āmentet, Sekhet, Sehetch-ur, the Four Terms, and Tcha-Unnut.

This scene is explained by the horizontal line of inscription written above it, and the hieroglyphic text, based on the editions of Lefébure and Champollion, reads :—

no reed mat or carpet hanging from the prow, we may assume that it is intended to represent the Ātet or Mātet Boat, i.e., the boat in which the Sun-god travelled over the sky from sunrise to noon.

The Boat of the Birth of Osiris, with serpents and gods.

In front of the boat glide three serpents, which are called SEK-RE, , SEFĀ, , and NEPEN, , and in front of these march four man-headed gods and two hawk-headed gods, each with a serpent in his left hand, a god called NĀBTI, , who holds a crook  in each hand, NET, or NEITH, goddess of the South, NET, or NEITH, goddess of the North, and the goat goddess ĀRTET, . The two hawk-headed gods are called TCHATUI,     , and MEṬI,  , and the four following gods ĀBENTI,                  , BENBETI,         , SEKHTI, and SEKHTET (?),             .

The explanation of this scene is given by the horizontal line of hieroglyphic text written above it, which reads:—

“ [The god cometh to] this Court, he passeth through it
 “ in the form of a ram, and he maketh his transformations “ therein. After he hath passed through this Court,
 “ the dead who are in his following do not [go with “ him], but they remain in this Court, and he speaketh

“words unto the gods who are therein. If copies of “these things be made according to the ordinances of “the hidden house, and after the manner of that which “is ordered in the hidden house, they shall act as “magical protectors to the man who maketh them.”

The Majesty of this god standeth up after he hath taken up his position in this Court, and he addresseth words to the gods who are therein, saying, "Open ye to me your doors, and let me come into your Courts! Give ye light unto me, and make ye yourselves guides to me, O ye who came into being from my members, my word hath gone forth to you. Ye are made of my bodies, I have made you, having fashioned you of my soul. I have created you, I have made you by means

“of my enchantments, [and] I have come to avenge “myself the blood of my members which have risen up “against me, and I will bring to destruction that which “hath been made for it. I will make perfect with the
 “. . . . . of my forms Osiris Khenti Ámenti. Open
 “to me the doors with your hands, O ye Apes, unfold
 “to me the portals of the Courts, O ye Apes, [and “welcome] the gods (or, goddesses) who have come “into being from my divine Souls, come ye into being, “come ye into being for (?) KHEPERĀ, O ye who have “your being at the head of the T̄uat. Stand ye up, in “URNES, and stablish ye yourselves on the secret banks “thereof, and work ye for the gods of T̄uat in the “Court which ye guard, possess ye your plans in your “seats, in your domains and in your fields.”

The gods of this Court say unto Rā, “O great god,
 “[the doors] are opened to thee, and the portals of the “secret Áment are thrown open before thee, the doors
 “of Nut the great are thrown wide open, illumine
 “thou the darkness of night (or, thick darkness),

 “your stand on the banks of the stream [URNES].”
 This great god passeth them by, and they (i.e., the gods) wail when he hath gone by them in the FIELD OF URNES. [The goddess of] the hour who guideth [this great god] through this Court is “USHEM-ĪĀT-KHEFTIU-NU-RĀ.”

CHAPTER II.

THE SECOND DIVISION OF THE TUAT, WHICH IS CALLED URNES.

IN the scene that illustrates the SECOND DIVISION of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god

The Boat of Af in the Second Hour.

during the SECOND HOUR of the night, the Boat of the Ram-headed god Af is seen making its way along the stream which flows, as before, through the division lengthwise; the crew consists of the same gods, and they occupy the same positions in the boat as they did in the First [Division. It is, however, important to notice that immediately in front of Āp-uat we see two serpents, which are called Isis and Nephthys respectively, , occupying the front of the boat. No carpet or mat hangs over the bows of the boat, and the utchat is not represented on its side; the boat moves over the waters by means of some power exerted either by itself or by some of the gods who stand in it. In front of the boat of ĀF the way is led by a procession of four boats, which are moved, presumably, by the same power which moves the boat of Rā.

The FIRST BOAT has ends which terminate in bearded human heads, and its celestial and solar character is attested by the sign for "heaven," , and the utchat , with which its sides are ornamented. The object of this boat is to support the disk of the full moon, which rests within a crescent upon a support divided into thirteen sections, each typifying a day; thus the full moon as it appears on the fourteenth day of the month is here represented. By the disk kneels a god who is "supporting Maāt," , which is symbolized by a feather, and is described by the word MAĀT,  , written between it and the support of the moon's disk. In the mutilated text above the boat it is said that "this great god approacheth this "region, and he is conveyed along in the boats of the "earth, by means of their . . . . , and he paddleth

 "along through this Field and uttereth words,"

The Boat of the Full Moon.

The name of the fore part of the boat appears to be URER, , and in front of the boat is written
 "Chief of the gods of the 'Tuat," ;

1 Var.

the hieroglyphics above the full moon read  the hieroglyphics above the stern of the boat read, "Field of him that beareth up URNES," , and those above the stern of the boat read, "Field of him that beareth up URNES,"  .

The ends of the SECOND BOAT likewise terminate in

The Boat of the goddess Hathor.

bearded human heads, but each is surmounted by a pair of plumes. In the centre of the boat, between two goddesses, stands a huge sistrum, which is the symbol of the goddess Hathor, and indicates that the boat is that of HATHOR, or of HATHOR-ISIS. In the fore part of the boat is a beetle, which is described as "This great god NEPER," .

Above the goddess to the left of the sistrum are written the words, "their boats send forth their words,"

; over the plumed head in front is written , and over that at the other end of the boat, "Osiris crieth to it,"

The Boat of the Lizard-god.

. On the side of the boat are the signs .

The prow of the THIRD BOAT is surmounted by a crown of the South, and the stern by a crown of the North, and between the two sceptres, , which symbolize the gods ANPU and AP-CAT, i.e., the jackal-headed gods of the South and North, is a huge lizard, from the back of which spring the head of Osiris and a White Crown. On the side of the boat are the signs  and . Above the crown of the North is the legend U-UR,   , which, however, probably refers to the sceptre near it; above the lizard we have

The Boat of the Grain-god Neper.

    |, above the foremost sceptre,

 and under the front of the boat is    .

The prow and stern of the FOURTH BOAT terminate in heads of uraei, each of which is turned towards the

KHNEMU QENBETI, , i.e., "Khnemu of the two corners."

4. An ibis-headed god, with a similar attribute, called TEḤUTI-ḤER-KHENT-F, , i.e., "Thoth on his steps."

5. An ape-headed god, with a similar attribute, called ĀFU-ḤER-KHENT-F, , i.e., "Āfu on his steps."

Second Hour. Upper Register. Gods Nos. 1-7.

6. Lioness-headed deity, with a similar attribute, called KETUIT-ṬENT-BA, , i.e., "Cutter of the soul."

All the above gods are in mummied form, and occupy chairs of state.

7. A god standing upright, and holding a kherp sceptre or weapon, , in his left hand; he is called

SEKHEM-Ā-KHEFTIU, , i.e., "Overcomer of the power of the enemy."

8. A hawk-headed god, with a uraeus on his head, called HERU-ṬUAT, , i.e., "Horus of the Ṭuat."

9. A god, who holds a knife in his left hand, and has his right raised to strike; he is called SEBEN-HESQ-KHAIBITU, .

Second Hour. Upper Register. Gods Nos. 8—15.

10, 11. Two ape-headed gods, called respectively BENTI, , and ĀĀNĀ, .

12. A god with the head of a hawk and the head of an animal, i.e., SET and HERU-UR, who is here called "He of the two faces," .

13, 14. The crook of Osiris, .

In the lower register are the following:—

1. A god, standing, called NEBAUI, .

2—4. Three gods, each of whom has two ears of corn stuck in his hair; these are called BESUĀ, , NEPER, , and TĒPU (?),  (or, PĀN, ).

5—7. Three gods, each holding an ear of wheat in

Second Hour. Lower Register. Gods Nos. 1—8.

8. A god, holding a knife in his left hand, called ĀR-ĀST-NETER, .

9—11. Three gods, seated, in mummy forms. The first has the head of a horned animal, and is called ĀMU-ĀA,   , i.e., “the Eater of the phallus"; the second has the head of a man, and is called , AKHABIT; and the third has the head of a jackal, and is called NEBT-TA-TCHESER, .

12. The god OSIRIS UN-NEFER, , in mummy form, wearing the crown of the South.

13. The god KHUI, , who holds in each hand a long lotus-topped sceptre surmounted by a star.

Second Hour. Lower Register. Gods Nos. 9—15.

14. The two-headed god (Horus-Set?) called HĀ-F-Ā-F, .

15. The god HĒRU-HĒN, .

16, 17. Two gods, each holding in his left hand the sign of life inverted; their names are HUN, , and HETCHETCHITU, .

18—20. Three gods, each holding a palm branch; their names are NEHÀ,  (or, NAREH, , MAKHI, , and RENPITI, .

21. A god, who holds a knife in his left hand, and is called ĀFAU, .

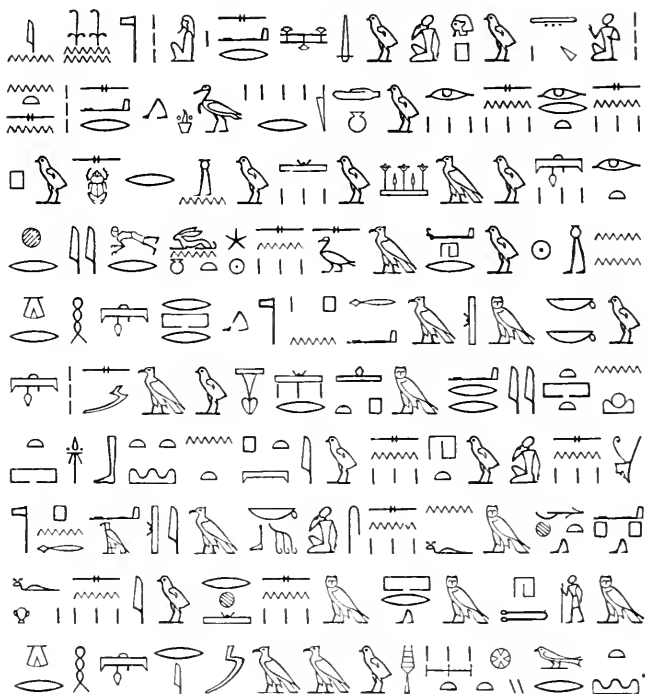

22. A god, holding in his hand the symbol of “year,” , who is called FA-ĀR-TRU, .

Second Hour. Lower Register. Gods Nos. 16—22.

The text referring to the gods in the upper register reads:—

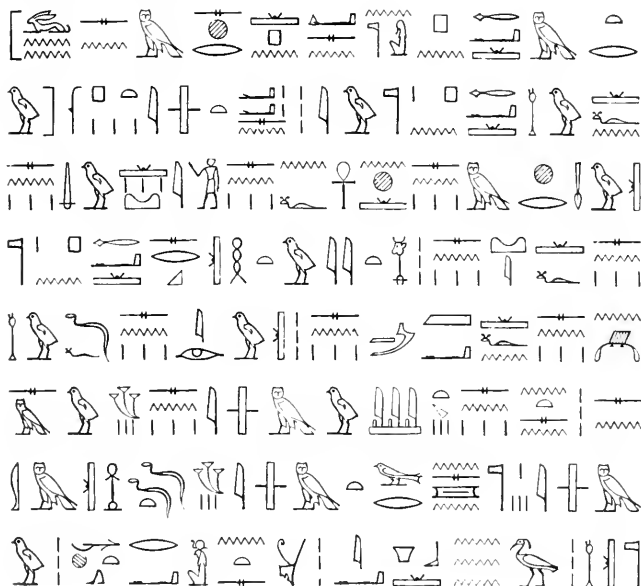

“[Those who are in this picture] praise this great “god after he hath come forth to them, and behold, it “is their words which lead him to them; they lament
 “when he hath passed onwards, having spoken words
 “to them. Behold, these gods are they who make the “words of those who are upon earth to reach [the god],
 “and it is they who make souls to approach their forms.
 “Their work consisteth in causing to come into being “the offerings of the night, and in performing the “overthrow [of enemies] at their hour. It is they who “guard the day, and who bring on the night until this “great god cometh forth from out of the thick dark“ness to repose in this Court of the eastern horizon of “heaven. They cry out in lamentation to this great “god, and they utter wailings for him after he hath “passed by them. Those who know them shall come “forth by day, and he shall be able to journey

 “during the night to the divisions of the great double “city.”

The texts which describe the duties of the gods in the lower register read:—

“ [Those who are in this picture give unto this great “ god the seasons] and the years which are in their “ hands. When this great god hath made speech with “ them, they answer him, and they have life through “ the voice of this great god, and their throats draw in “ breath, for when he crieth to them he ordereth them
 “ what they are to do, and he appointeth to them green “ herbs in abundance in their field. And they supply “ with the green herbs of URNES the gods who are in “ the following of Rā, and they make offerings of water “ to the spirits by the command of this great god, and “ they kindle flames of fire in order to burn up the “ enemies of Rā, and there is wailing to them, and they “ lament after this great god hath passed them by.
 “ ĀM-NEBĀUI is the guardian of this Field; whosoever “ knoweth [this] is in the condition of a spirit equipped “ with [words of power], and [the gods] protect [him].”

The five lines of text which contain the address of the gods to Rā, and the answer of the god, read:—

The gods of the Ṭuat speak to this great god as he entereth in with understanding to the boundary, and he is borne over NET-RĀ into URNES, saying, "Hail, "thou who risest as a Mighty Soul (KHĀ-BA-ĀA), who "hast received [the things which belong to] the Ṭuat, "ĀF, thou guardian of heaven . . . . thou livest, O "ĀF, in TA-ṬESERT. Come thou, and cast thou thine "eye in thy name of Living One, Kheperā, at the head "of the Ṭuat. Traverse thou this Field, O thou who "hast might, bind thou with fetters the ḤAU serpent, "and smite thou the serpent Neḥa-ḥrā. There is "rejoicing in heaven, and there are shouts of gladness "upon the earth at the entrance of thy (literally, his) "body. He who shineth sendeth forth light, and the "URU gods give light [at dawn; destroy thou] the

This great god sendeth forth words to the gods who dwell in the Ṭuat and to those who inhabit URNES, saying, “Open ye your hidden doors so that the god

 “that ye may untie and cast away your swathings, and “that ye may lift up your legs and walk upon them,
 “and that ye may stretch out your arms, and that your “souls may not be made to remove themselves from

“you. O ye who live in your forms, and who utter “your words of magical power, who are provided with “your swords [whereby] ye may hack in pieces the “enemies of Osiris, whose seasons are permanent, whose “years are well established, who pass your state of “ye cries of joy, O gods of the Ṭuat, for I avenge you, “[utter ye cries of joy,] for I order your destinies.”

When they have addressed this god whilst rowing along his boat AM-TA, they cry out, and they bring him to rest in the Field of the NEPERTIU gods who are in the following of Osiris. If these scenes be done [in writing] according to the similitudes which are in the hidden place of the palace, and if a man hath knowledge of [these] words . . . they shall act as magical protectors of a man upon earth, regularly, unfailingly, and eternally. The name of this hour is SESIET-MĀKET-NEB-S.

CHAPTER III.

THE THIRD DIVISION OF THE T̄UAT, WHICH IS CALLED NET-NEB-UĀ-KHEPER-ĀUT.

IN the scene which illustrates the THIRD DIVISION of the T̄uat, which is passed through by the Sun-god

The Boat of Āf, the dead Sun-god, in the Third Hour.

during the THIRD HOUR of the night, we see the boat of the god making its way over the waters of the river

i.e., "The boat which capsizeth"; it contains three hawk-headed forms of the god Horus, and is steered by two male figures, who stand one in the bows and the other at the stern. In the middle of the boat stand the hawk-god BAK,  $\text{𓏏} \text{𓏏}$ , and the hawk-goddess BAKET,  $\text{𓏏} \text{𓏏}$ , and behind them, standing on a snake, is the third form of Horus. Between the front steersman and BAKET is the serpent TEKA-ĤRĀ,  $\text{𓏏} \text{𓏏} \text{𓏏}$ , i.e., "Fiery face," and the aft steersman bears a name of similar meaning, NĀB-ĤRĀ,  $\text{𓏏} \text{𓏏} \text{𓏏}$ .

The second boat is called UĀA-HERER,  $\text{𓏏} \text{𓏏} \text{𓏏}$ ,

i.e., "The boat of Rest," and has in the middle an Osiris god in the form of a mummy; each end of the boat terminates in the head of a cynocephalus, and it is steered by two beings, one of whom is called ṬESEM-ḤRĀ-F, i.e., "He whose face is like a knife,"

and the other KHEN-EN-URṬ-F,

The Boat of the Branch.

i.e., "The ferryman who resteth not." The Osiris god stands between two gods, one of whom is called ĀU-MATU, and the serpent which stands on its tail between the steersman in the bows and the first god is called SET-EM-ḤRĀ-F,

The third boat is called PA-KHET, , i.e., "The Branch," and each end terminates in the head of a lion. In the middle of it stands the form of Osiris, who is called SHEFSHEF, , and he wears on his head a pair of ram's horns; his arms and the upper portion of his body are swathed. Behind him stands the mummied form called ÂM-TA, , and before him the god NEB-UAST, . Of the two steersmen, only the name of the second, KHEN, or KHENNU, , is given; the name of the serpent which stands on its tail is SET-EM-MAAT-F,

The procession of boats is met by four forms of Osiris, who stand with the upper portion of their bodies swathed. Their names are:—1. NEB-NET,
 2. MENI, . 3. ĀRI-TCHERU,
 4. MAA-TCHERU,

The text written above the boats reads:—

“This great god journeyeth over NET-NEB-UĀ-KHEPER-“ĀUT (i.e., the Water of the Lord One, the Creator of “food). [He who is in] this picture transporteth the “boats which are in the earth, and he paddleth Osiris
 “to this City. This great god resteth for a period in “this City, and he sendeth forth his voice to Osiris,
 “and to those who are in his following, and [then]
 “these hidden boats guide him into this Field. This “great god paddleth through this Field towards the “Hour ṬENT-BAIU, and these boats journey round to “the district of THETTU, after traversing this City.
 “Whosoever knoweth these things shall have both his “habitation and his bread with Rā.”

In the upper register are the following:—

1. A dog-headed ape seated on an oval mass of sand;
 he is called HER-SHĀ-F, , or ,
 “He who is on his sand.”

2. A dog-headed ape called TCHEB-NETER, , or ṬEBI-NETER, , seated in a coffer (?)
 with a vaulted roof.

3, 4. Two jackal-headed gods called ANPU, , and NEHEM-KHERU, , or NEHA-KHERU, .

5, 6. A man and a woman, who hold in each hand a pupil of the Eye of Horus, or Rā; the man is called

ANTH,  , i.e., "He who brings," and the woman  , ANTET,<sup>1</sup> i.e., "She who brings."

7. The ram SMA-KHEFTIU-F,     .

8. A mummied form, with projecting hands, called PET-ĀHĀT,     .

16—19. Four mummied forms. The first has a pair of horns on his head, the second two curved plumes (?), the third a winged uraeus, and the head of the fourth is without ornament; their names appear to be PEBA-F,

Third Hour. Upper Register. Gods Nos. 20—26.

KA-ĀRU, ĀUAI, and TEBA.

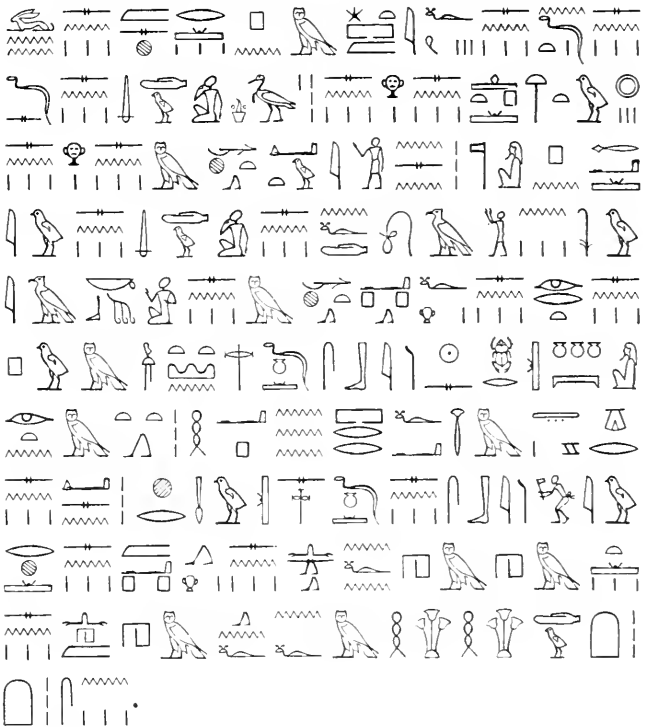

20—23. Four goddesses, whose names are HĀIT, ĀKEBTIT, MATHI, and REMIT; these, as their names testify, were professional mourners.

24. The god HĒRU-KHETI, followed by the HĒNNU, , standard, i.e., the hawk of SEKER upon a standard, .

25, 26. The gods MEH-MĀAT, , and NETER-NEFERU, .

The text which refers to the above reads:—

“Those who are in this picture in the ṬUAT have “the flesh of their own bodies, and their souls speak

“over them, and their shadows are united unto them,
 “and after this great god hath addressed them, they “speak to him, and they say words of praise to him,
 “and they weep after he hath passed them by. The “work which is theirs in Āmentet is to take vengeance

23. The god KHETRA, , holding  and .

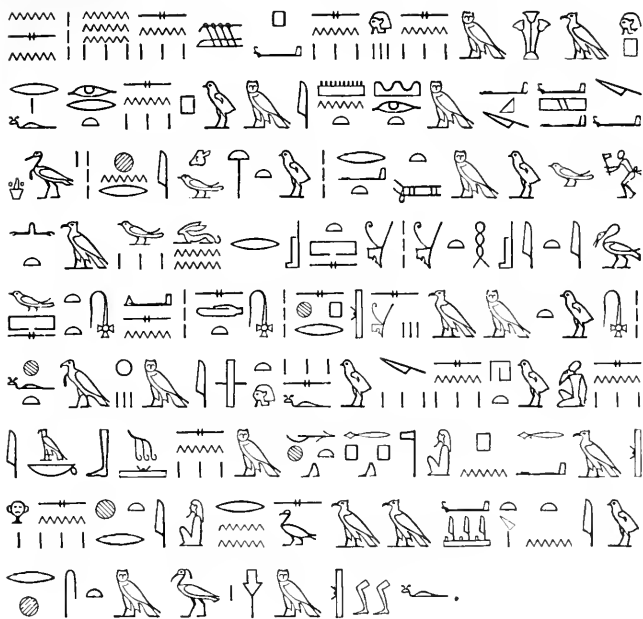

Third Hour. Lower Register. Gods Nos. 20-26.

24-26. Three gods, with bowed backs, who touch the earth with their hands.

The text relating to the above reads:—

“Those who are in this picture [and those who are “in] the house of TET praise this great god, and when “this great god hath sent forth words to them, they “come to life, for when he hath called to them and “hath sent forth his words to them [they have] their “water, and they receive their due (literally, heads) in “addition to the utterance of his mouth. The work “which they have to do in Āment is to hew and to “hack souls in pieces, and set restraint upon shadows,
 “and to destroy such doomed beings as have their “being in their place of destruction which blazeth with “fire. They send forth flames and they cause fires to “spring up, and the enemies are as those who have “their knives over (or, on) their heads. They wail

 “and they lament when this great god hath passed “them by. The name of the warder of this Field is “KHETRA. Whosoever knoweth this shall be in the “condition of a spirit who hath dominion over his legs.”

M. Maspero, in his description of the THIRD HOUR,<sup>1</sup>

 “O vous dont j’ai rendu mystérieuses, dont j’ai occulté les âmes, “que j’ai mis à la suite d’Osiris pour le défendre, pour escorter ses “images, pour anéantir ceux qui l’attaquent, si bien que le dieu Hon “est à toi, ô Osiris, derrière toi, pour te défendre, pour escorter tes “images, pour anéantir ceux qui l’attaquent, si bien que Hon est à “toi, ô Osiris, que Sa est à toi, ô Khontamentit, vous dont les formes “sont stables, vous dont les rites assurent l’existence, vous qui “respirez l’air [de vos narines, qui voyez] de vos faces, qui écoutez “de vos oreilles, qui êtes coiffés de vos coufièh, qui êtes vêtus de vos “bandelettes, qui avez des revenus d’offrandes à vous sur terre par “l’office des prêtres du dieu, qui avez des champs à vous de votre “propre domaine, vous dont les âmes ne sont point renversées, dont “les corps ne sont point culbutés, ouvrez vos cercles et tenez-vous à “vos places, car je suis venu pour voir mes corps, inspecter mes “images qui sont dans l’autre monde, et vous m’avez convoyé pour “me permettre de leur apporter mon aide, si bien que je conduis à “la rame ton âme au ciel, ô Osiris, ton âme à la terre, ô Khonta“ougrit, avec tes dieux derrière toi, tes mânes devant toi, ton être “et tes formes [sur toi?], et alors ton mâne est enchanté, ô Osiris, “vos mânes sont enchantés, ô vous qui suivez Osiris. Je monte en “terre et le jour est derrière moi; je traverse la nuit, et mon âme “se réunit à vos formes pendant le jour, j’accomplis de nuit les “rites qui vous sont nécessaires, j’ai créé vos âmes pour moi, afin “qu’elles soient derrière moi, et ce que j’ai fait pour elles vous “empêche de tomber au lieu d’anéantissement.”

includes an extract from the speech which the Sun-god Rā makes to the inhabitants of NET-NEB-UĀ-KHEPER-ĀUT; as he points out, though three copies of the speech are extant, all are mutilated (see Lefébure, Le Tombeau de Seti I<sup>er</sup>, 1<sup>re</sup> partie, pll. xv.-xvii., pll. xviii.-xx., and pl. xxii.), and it is impossible at present to reconstruct the text, although the general meaning of several sentences is clear enough.

CHAPTER IV.

THE FOURTH DIVISION OF THE T̄UAT, WHICH IS CALLED ĀNKHET-KHEPERU.

IN the scene that illustrates the FOURTH DIVISION of the T̄uat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the FOURTH HOUR of the night, a region which is entirely different from anything seen previously is entered. We see that the general arrangement which makes each Division to contain three sections has been followed, but the actual path of the Boat of the Sun is different. Instead of passing along the middle section as before, the god is obliged to pass over the region of the kingdom of Seker. The course which was usually passed over by the dead runs from one side of the section to the other diagonally, and it may be thus described:—Starting from the upper side of the top-

, slants across to the lower side; at the point where it touches the line which divides the first and second section is a door, which is thrown open.

The door is called MĀTES-SMA-TA, , or . The corridor runs

The Kingdom of Seker.

As the further course of the corridor will be described under the Fifth Hour we may pass on to consider the Boat of the Sun, and the means by which the god makes his way onward.

Rā and the gods who formed his crew have left the boat in which they travelled until now, and have betaken themselves to one, each end of which terminates in the head of a serpent. This serpent-boat is drawn along by four gods, who are called ṬUN-EN-MAĀ,

,<sup>1</sup> HER-UARFU, ,<sup>2</sup> ĀR-NEFERTU,

is written, “[Whilst] this great god journeyeth over “those who are in this scene the flames which the “mouth of his boat emit guide him through these “pools; he seeth not their forms, but he crieth to “them and to their places, and they hear his voice,”

In front of those who tow the boat of Rā are:—

1. A form of Osiris called EM-ĀNKHTI, , or  (see p. 71).

2. The crook of Osiris, , or  (see p. 75).

3, 4. Thoth, ibis-headed, and Horus, hawk-headed, standing facing each other, with the UTCHAT, , above their outstretched hands and arms; the title of Thoth is UTHESU, , or , i.e., “the Raiser,” and that of Horus is ĀU-ĀU, , or , “the wide of hands.” The Uchat is called SEKRI, .

5. The god SETHEN-ĤĀT, , or , wearing the crown of the South.

6. The god ĤER-ṬEBAT-F, , i.e., “He who is over his place of burial,” having in the place of a head two curved objects, which M. Maspero identifies with mummy bandages (see p. 79).

7. The god UATCH-ĤRĀ, , i.e., “Green Face” (see p. 79).

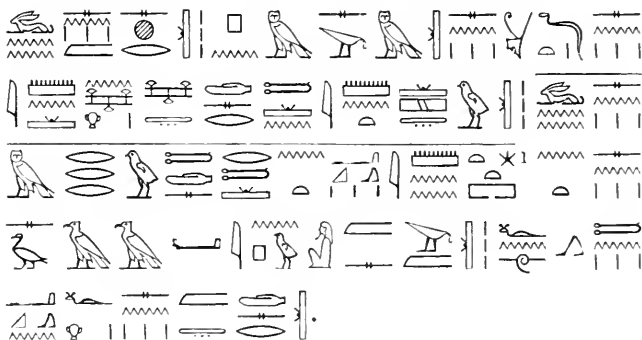

8. The god ĤETEP, , who carries the crook of Osiris mentioned above (No. 2) (see p. 79).

9—11. Three gods, each of whom carries  in his left hand, whose names are SEM-ĀNKH,  , AN-ḤER,  , and UT-MET,   (see pp. 79, 83).

12. The goddess NEBT-ĀNKH,   (see p. 83).

The text which refers to these beings reads:—

“Those who are in this picture, in their forms of “their bodies, are the hidden [travellers] upon the way
 “of the holy country whose secret things are hidden.
 “They are the guardians of the way of the holy [land]
 “for those who enter into the hidden place of the “Tuat, and they keep ward over Anpu in his forms as “he tows them along, when he entereth in by them in “the holy land.”

In the upper register are:—

1. A goddess, wearing the crown of the North, apparently a form of Neith (see p. 63).

2. A serpent, with a human head, and two pairs of human feet and legs (see p. 63).

3—5. Three serpents, which move side by side along the ground “upon their bellies,”

Of them it is said, “Those who are in this “picture make their passage to every place each day,”

(see p. 67).

6. The scorpion ĀNKHET,  , and a large uraeus.

Of these it is said, “Those who are in this picture “stand in Re-stau at the head of the way [to guard

“it],”

Behind these stands a god, who appears to be making an offering of two libation vases to the serpent. Of him it is said, “He who is in this picture is the guide of the holy way,”

7. A three-headed serpent, with a pair of hawk’s wings, and two pairs of human legs, and of him it is said, “He who is in this picture in the Tuat is the

CHAPTER V.

THE FIFTH DIVISION OF THE T̄UAT, WHICH IS CALLED ĀMENT.

IN the scene that illustrates the FIFTH DIVISION of the T̄uat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the FIFTH HOUR of the night, we see the boat of the sun being drawn along by seven gods and seven goddesses (see pp. 91, 95, 99, 103, 107). The legend over the seven gods is partly broken away, but what remains of it proves that it must have been similar in meaning to that which is over the heads of the goddesses, which reads, "These are the goddesses which tow Rā along in the "T̄uat over this Circle, and they make this great god "to advance so that he may rest in NU in the T̄uat,"

In front of the seven goddesses march four gods, who appear to be under the guidance of "Isis of Āmentet," 𓆎 𓆏, and who are described as the "great sovereign

"chiefs who provide food in this Circle,"

 . The first god is called HER-KHU,

, and holds a staff in his hand; the second is ĀN-ḤETEP, , and holds the sceptre  in his hand; the third is HERU-ḤEQUI, , is hawk-headed, and holds the crook  in his hand; the fourth is UT-MEṬU, , and holds a tree in his left hand.

The text containing the address of the Sun-god to the seven gods is broken away, and all that remains of it reads, "This great god maketh his journey by means of those who tow him over this Circle in [his] boat . . . . ."

 . A portion of the answer of the seven gods to him is also broken away, but what remains of it reads, "Is opened to thee the earth to such an extent that thou hast passed over the Beautiful Land, and the roads concerning which Rā hath spoken to thee, O Osiris. Thou criest out, O Rā, to the Land of Seker, and Horus hath life upon his sands. Come to Kheperā, O Rā! Come to Kheperā! Work ye with the cord, O ye who make Kheperā to advance, so that it may give the hand (i.e., help) to Rā whilst he passeth over the hidden ways of Rā, in the horizon. [Come] in peace. in peace, O Rā of the Beautiful

The Kingdom of Seker.

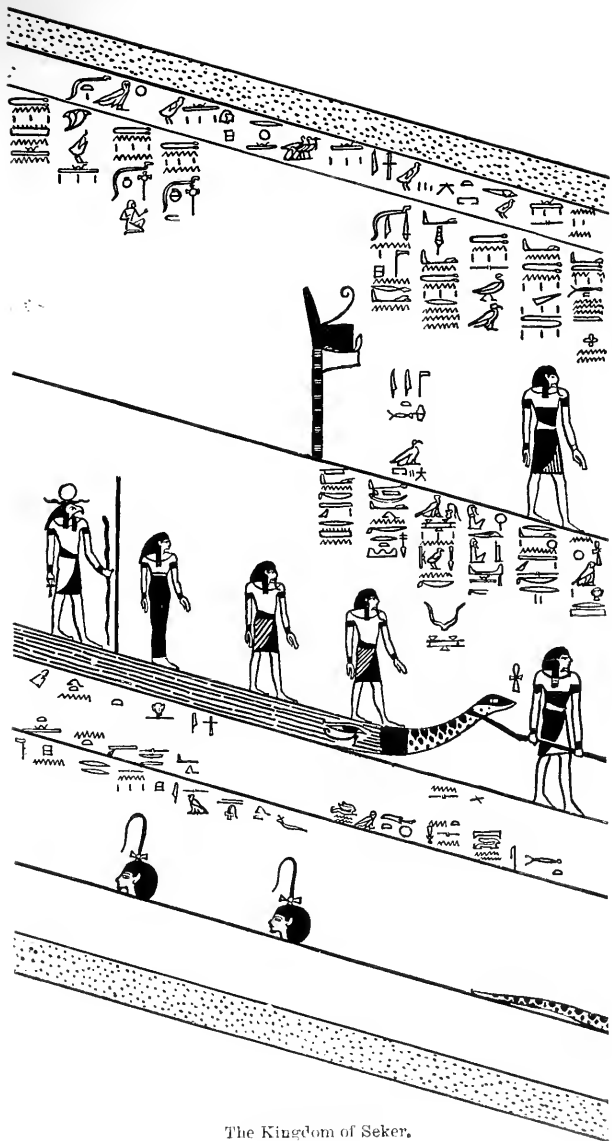

In the middle of the scene we see that the ground rises (see p. 103) and forms a kind of hollow mound, the highest point of which terminates in the head of a woman, which faces to the right; immediately above her head is a scarab which is in the act of descending, but only one half of its body is visible. Concerning the beetle it is said, “Behold Kheperă “who, immediately the [boat of Ră] is towed to the “top of this Circle, unites himself to the roads of “the ʽuat; when this god standeth on the head of “the goddess he speaketh words to Seker every day,”

The short lines of text just above the mound read,
 “The majesty of this great god journeyeth on by “being towed along, and these goddesses receive him,”

The Kingdom of Seker.

“The Image which is in this picture is in thick darkness. The dawn in the horizon which belongs to this god [cometh] from the eyes of the heads of the great god, whose flesh sendeth forth light, and whose legs are bent round, the great god who keepeth ward over the flesh of SEKRI, who is on his sand, his own image. The voice of this horizon is heard in this hour after this great god hath passed them by, like unto the sound of the roarings which are in the heights of heaven when they are disturbed by a storm.”

On the left of the horizon (see p. 95) of SEKRI is the serpent TEPAN, , “who liveth by the voice of the primeval gods of the earth. He cometh forth and he goeth in, and he presenteth the offerings made to this great god every day unseeing [and unseen],”

15. The god SET, bull-headed (see p. 107).

16. The god SENT-NEF-ĂMENTIU,  (see p. 107).

17. The god HETEP-NETERU,  (see p. 107).

Of these eight gods it is said, "They stand by at the annihilation of the dead in the Tuat, and their work is to burn up with fire the bodies of the dead by the flames from their mouths in the course of every day,"

18. A goddess, standing upright, with her hands stretched out to the top of the head of a man who is kneeling before her, and is cutting open his head with a hatchet; the goddess is called , and "lives upon the blood of the dead, and upon that which the gods give,"

 (see p. 113).

The text of the speech which the god makes to the eight gods reads :—

“The Majesty of this great god saith unto them, “Hail, ye who stand at the blocks of torture, and who “keep ward at the destruction of the dead, ye whose “voices have come into being for you, who have “received your words of power, who are endowed with “your souls, who sing hymns to the accompaniment of “your sistra, who take vengeance on the enemies, who “annihilate the dead, who hack in pieces shades [of “goddess in peace.”

The entrance into the Sixth Division of the Tuat is made through a door in the lower register, which is guarded by a serpent “who openeth it himself,”

; here, too, appears the large five-rayed star which is the symbol of the planet VENUS, and is described as the “living god which journeyeth, and “journeyeth, and travelleth,” .

CHAPTER VI.

THE SIXTH DIVISION OF THE T̄UAT, WHICH IS CALLED METCHET-MU-NEBT-T̄UAT.

IN the scene which illustrates the SIXTH DIVISION of the T̄uat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the SIXTH HOUR of the night, we see, in the middle register, the dead Sun-god ÁFU-RĀ,  $\text{𓆎𓆏𓆏𓆏} \odot$ , once again standing in his boat, under the canopy, accompanied by his usual company of gods. He is no longer in the serpent boat wherein he passed through the domain of Sekri, and he is no longer being towed along. In front of the boat are:—

1. The god Thoth, in the form of a man with the head of a cynocephalus ape, seated on a throne, and

bearing the name TEḤUTI-KHENTI-NEB-ṬUAT,

2. A female figure, with her hands turned behind her, holding in each the pupil of an eye of Horus or Rā; she is called ĀMENT-SEMU-SET,

The text above the boat reads:

KHU, , i.e., "Spirits." Immediately in front of these gods is an enormous serpent with five heads, which is called ĀSH-ḤRĀU, , i.e., the "Many-faced." The body of this serpent is bent round to form an oval, and within it lies on his back the god ĀFU, , who is holding upon his head a beetle, which is the symbol of the god KHEPERĀ. The text written above reads:—

The Serpent Āsh-Ḥrāu.

“[This is] the hidden path of Āmentet, on the water
 “of which is transported this great god in his boat to “arrange the lots (or, plans) of those who are in the “Ṭuat. If their names be uttered, if their bodies be “known, if their true forms and the knowledge of their “hours be known, and the qualities of this secret figure
 “of the Ṭuat (which are unknowable), by any man “whatsoever: or if an exact representation in drawing

 “who are in the following of Osiris, and he shall have “(i.e., receive) the offerings which all his kinsfolk are “in duty bound to make to him upon earth.”

In the upper register are:—

A company of nine gods and goddesses, all of whom are represented as seated, but their seats of state or thrones are invisible; they may be thus enumerated:—

1. The god HETEP-KHENTI-ṬUAT, , in the form of a mummy; his hands project from his bandages, and on his head he has symbols of meat and drink.

2. The goddess ÂSTH-MEHIT, or ÂST-ÂMHIT, , or , with the Crown of the North on her head. The name means "Isis in the North."

3. The god ÂSÂR-ÂM-ÂB-NETERU, , i.e., "Osiris in the heart of the gods."

“Saith the Majesty of this great god
 “to the gods who are over this Field:—O ye gods who “dwell in the Tuat, ye Heteptiu who keep ward over “your masters, ye unto whom offerings are made from “the offerings of your fields of offerings, whereon ye “take your rest each day, unite ye yourselves to the “provisions which are mine. Ye are the lords of “[your] hands, ye have right [to direct] [your] feet, ye

 “have possession of that over which ye have dominion, “protect ye Osiris from those who would act with “violence and wrong against him. The work of these “gods in the Tuat is to give offerings to the gods of “the Tuat, who are masters of their offerings and of “the food which proceedeth forth from the mouth of “this great god.”

, TEM, , KHEPERA, , SHU, , SEB,

, ASĀR, , ḤERU, , ĀPU,  , and ḤETEPIU, . The text which refers to the four gods and the nine serpents reads:—

“Saith the Majesty of this great god to these gods:—
 “O ye who make yourselves to be standing up although “ye are seated, ye who are in motion although ye are “at rest, ye whose souls come into being, ye who are “united to your shades, who lift up your feet and who “move onwards by your thighs, unite ye yourselves to “your flesh, and let not your members be fettered.

 “They have their life through the voice of this great “god every day, and the work which they do is to “watch the two comings of the god Khuti.”

Concerning the nine serpents it is said:—

“The Majesty of this great god speaketh words to “these male gods who are at the head of this city:—
 “Hail, O nine forms of the divine spirits, whose faces
 “are of flames, who are provided with your knives, “burn ye up the enemies of Kheperà, hack in pieces
 “their shades, for ye are the warders of the Hidden “Flesh, which is made of Nu, your habitation, for it is “ye who dwell in the Water of TA-THEXEN, and it is “for you that the magical powers of Kheperà come “into being. They have their means of living from
 “the word of Rā every day. The work which they do
 “in the Ṭuat is to hack asunder the dead, and to cause
 “the spirits to be destroyed.”

CHAPTER VII.

THE SEVENTH DIVISION OF THE TUAT,
WHICH IS CALLED THEPHET-ĀSĀR.

THE scene that illustrates the SEVENTH DIVISION of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the SEVENTH HOUR of the night, is introduced by three lines of text, which read :—

“The Majesty of this great god taketh up his abode
“in the Hall of Osiris, and the Majesty of this god

“addresseth words to the Hall of the gods who dwell “therein. This god performeth all the rites proper
 “[for entering] this Hall, and he advanceth on his way “against Āpep by means of the words of power of Isis,
 “and by means of the words of power of the Sovereign
 “God. The name of the gate of this City wherethrough “passeth this god is RUTI-ĀSĀR. The name of this “City is THEPHET-SHETA. The name of the hour of the “night which guideth this great god into it is KHEFTES-“HĀU-ḤESQET-[NEḤA]-ḤRĀ.”

The Boat of Āf, the dead Sun-god, in the Seventh Hour.

In the middle register are:—

1. The boat of Rā, who stands under a canopy formed by the body of the serpent MEḤEN; the god is ram-headed and wears a disk on his head, and his name ĀFU,  $\mathcal{R}\mathcal{R}\mathcal{R}$ , is written twice near him. In front of him stand ḤEKA-SER,  $\text{⊗} \text{⊞} \text{⊗}$ , and SA, and ISIS, who has both arms stretched out before her, and is reciting the words of power which shall make the boat to advance.

Behind the god stand HERU-ĪEKEN, KA-SHU, NEHES, HU, and the "protector of the boat." Above the boat is written:

"god journeyeth in this City in the path of the Circle of SAR (Osiris) by means of the utterances of the words of power of Isis and of the words of power of SER, so that he may journey on his way against NEĪA-ĪRĀ. If these words of power of Isis, and those of SER be uttered, ĀPEP shall be turned back and shall be shut up in Āment, in the hidden place of the Tuat; if they be uttered on the earth it shall be so likewise. Whosoever shall utter them shall become one of those who are in the boat of Rā, both in heaven and upon earth; but whosoever knoweth not these figures shall not know how to repulse NEĪA-ĪRĀ."

2. The serpent NEĪA-ĪRĀ, which is transfixcd to the ground by means of six knives. The goddess SERQET, , stands with a band round his neck in the act of

“in length, and four hundred and forty cubits in “breadth, and his voice guideth the gods to him. He “who is with(?) him after this great god hath made “his passage through this City, halteth(?) with ĀFU, “opposite to the country whereover he would make a “way; behold, SERQET is at the head [of Āpep], and “ĤER-ṬESU-F placeth his deadly fetter about his feet
 “after Isis hath taken possession of the words of power “of SER of two-fold strength, [and Rā] giveth their “words of power. Whosoever knoweth it (i.e., this

; and the fourth "contains the form of OSIRIS,"

The goddesses are described as:

“at Āpep in the T̄uat, who repulse (or, bring to nought) the affairs (or, matters) of the enemies of Rā. Those who are in this picture, and who hold knives, hack asunder Āpep in the T̄uat each day.”

7—10. The four coffers of Osiris, concerning which it is said:

“are the] hidden magical figures of the T̄uat, the funeral shrines of the hidden heads. [When] those who reached this region [come there, the hidden heads] appear, [and when they have heard the voice of Rā] they eat their own forms, after this great god hath passed them by.” The line of hieroglyphics above the upper register reads:

and holding in his right hand some curved object, which resembles a boomerang.

2. The goddess ATHI, , with the head of a lioness, holding the symbol of "life" in her right hand, and a sceptre in her left.

3. The uraeus ĀNKHUITHIT, , with the head of a woman.

4. A god in human form, seated on a throne, wearing plumes and an uraeus on his head, with "life" in his right hand, and the sceptre  in his left; this god is called ÂFU-ÂSÂR, , and he is seated under a canopy which is formed by the body of a monster serpent called ÂNKH-ÂRU-TCHEFAU-ÂNKH-ÂRU,

. The text which refers to the first three gods reads:

, "The Majesty of this great and holy god saith,

"Grant thou me to come forth on the path by thy "spittle(?) and by [thy] throat and let me utter the "word which is maât to Ânkhit, and let me open thy "fold, for I have come to illumine the darkness, and to "embrace him that is in Mehen." The text which refers to ÂFU-ÂSÂR reads:

“This god
 “saith unto Osiris, who dwelleth in the serpent MEHEN, “Hail, Osiris, Governor of the Tuat, thou lord of life,
 “thou ruler of Amentet, thou shalt live, live thou life,
 “thou hast magical power, and shalt prevail by magical

 “them up with his blazing knife which is over them,
 “he hacketh them in pieces and choppeth them up “with his slaughtering knife, and he reckoneth up his “members each day. O let me pass over thee in peace.”

Anku fettering the foes of Osiris.

5. Three headless figures, kneeling, with their arms tied behind their backs; these represent the "enemies of Osiris," or Behind these stands a fierce cat-headed (or, lynx-headed) god, who holds a huge pointed stake in one hand, and flourishes a large knife in the other.

6. Three foes, of Osiris lying on their backs; round the right arm of each a rope is tied, and the other ends of the three ropes are in the hands of a god called ANKU, The passage which refers to these reads:

“The Majesty of this god saith:—O ye spirits

“who are hostile to Osiris, who have rebelled against “the Governor of the Tuat, your hands and arms are “fettered, and [ye] are tied tightly with bonds, and “your souls are kept under ward, and your shades are “hacked in pieces, ĀNKU hath drawn the cords about “you so tightly that ye shall never be able to escape
 “from his restraint.”

7. Three bearded, human-faced hawks, wearing on their heads the double crown of the South and North:
 the first is called SA-TATHENEN, , the name of the second is wanting, and the third is called MAM(?), , or MAĀT, .

8. A huge serpent, which bears on its back a god in a sitting posture; the god is called ĀFU-TEM,
, and the remains of the text which refers to him say that he shoots forth his flame at those who rebel against Osiris, and that he eats the souls of the enemies of the god.

In the lower register are:—

1. The god ḤERU-ḤER-KHENT-F, , seated on a throne, as his name implies. He is hawk-headed, and wears the solar disk encircled by a serpent; in his right hand is the symbol of life, and in his left a sceptre. The other forms of his name are

. Of

this god it is said:

Heru-her-khent-f.

“work of this figure who is in “this picture is in the Ṭuat, and “it is for him to send the stars
“on their way, and to make the “hours to go on their way in the “Ṭuat.” The stars are personified by gods, twelve in number, who stand each with a star on his head. Their names are:—

1. UR-KERT,

2. KEKHERT (?),

3. NEB-KHERT-TA,

4. ṬUATI,

5. HĪĀT, .

10. SEM-NES-F, .

11. TĒSEM-EM-MAAT-F,

12. SEQER-TĒPU,

The text relating to these gods reads:

‘The Majesty of Horus of the T̄uat saith unto the “starry gods:—O ye who are maāt in your flesh, whose “magical powers have come into being for you, who “are united unto your stars and who yourselves rise up
 “for Rā in the horizon which is in the T̄uat each day,

CHAPTER VIII.

THE EIGHTH DIVISION OF THE TUAT, WHICH IS CALLED TEBAT-NETERU-S.

THE scene that illustrates the EIGHTH DIVISION of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the EIGHTH HOUR of the night, is introduced by four lines of text which read:—

“The Majesty of this great god taketh up its place in “the Circles of the hidden gods who are on their sand,

“and he addresseth to them words in his boat whilst “the gods tow him along through this City by means of “the magical powers of the serpent MEHEN. The name “of the gate of this City is ĀHĀ-ĀN-URṬ-NEF. The name “of this City is ṬEBAT-NETERU-S. The name of the “Hour of the night which guideth this great god is “NEBT-USHA.”

The Circles of this Division are thus described:—

“The hidden Circles of Ament which are passed “through by the great god, his boat being towed along
 “by the gods who dwell in the Ṭuat; let them be made “according to the figures [which are depicted] on the “north of the hidden palace in the Ṭuat. Whosoever “knoweth them by their names shall be the possessor
 “of swathings upon earth, and he shall not be repulsed
 “at the hidden gates, and he shall have offerings in very “great abundance regularly and perpetually.”

In the middle register are:—

1. The boat of the sun, in which the god stands under a canopy formed by the body of the serpent Mehen, being towed along by nine gods. His passage is thus described:

“maketh his way into this City, being towed along by the gods of the Tuat, in his hidden form of MEHEN. This god sendeth forth a cry to the regions

“ of every Circle
 “ of this City, and “ also to the gods
 “ who are there-
 “ in, and it is the “ voice of them
 “ which this god “ heareth after he “ hath sent forth
 “ a cry to them.
 “ The figures of “ their bodies “ remain always “ with their dead “ bodies which “ are under their “ sand, and their “ gates open to “ the voice of “ this god each “ day, and then “ they hide them“ selves after he “ hath passed by “ them. Their “ work in the “ Ṭuat is to tow
 “ Rā along over
 “ the ways of this

The Boat of Āf, the dead Sun-god, in the Eighth Hour.

"City, and they
 "rise up after
 "they have towed
 "him along into
 "this Hall, and
 "they say unto
 "him:—O thou
 "god, come thou
 "to thine hidden
 "image, O our
 "god, and to all
 "the sepulchres
 "of KHENTI-
 "ĂMENTI, unite
 "thyself strong-
 "ly to it, and
 "mayest thou
 "be entreated
 "to lighten the
 "darkness of
 "those who are
 "on their sands.
 "We beseech
 "thee to come
 "and to unite
 "thyself, O Rā,
 "to those who
 "tow thee along."
 The eight gods

who tow along the boat of Rā are thus described:

“These “are the gods of the Tuat who tow along Rā in the “place where the gods have their sepulchres (TEBAT-“NETERU-SET), and he is [acclaimed] by those who are “in this City. The images secret of TATHENEN, of “Horus (?), [and of] the gods are with them.”

2. Nine large objects somewhat in the form of the hieroglyphic  shems, which has the meaning of “follower” or “servant”: unlike this sign, however, each of the nine objects is provided with a huge knife, and from the curved end of each is suspended a human head. M. Maspero is undoubtedly correct in describing these as the servants of the god. The names of the nine servants are:—

1. HETEP-TA, .
2. ĀMEN, .
3. SESHETA-BAIU (?), .
4. SEKHEN-KHAIBIT, .
5. NEB-ER-TCHER, .

“picture are those who are on the path along which this “god is towed, and they have their swathings before “them in the form in which the god himself [had them].
 “This our great god crieth out unto those who have “their life in them, in [their] heads in their forms, and “this god crieth out to them by their names. Their work “is [to seize] the enemies of Rā everywhere throughout “this City, and then to make their heads to pass under “their swords after this god hath passed them by.”

 his horns, and the symbol of linen bandages in front of him: he is an image of TATHENEN, of whom he is the “second form,” , or .

5. A ram, having the crown of the North between his horns, and the symbol of linen bandages in front of him; he is an image of TATHENEN, of whom he is the "third form," or .

6. A ram, having the solar disk and a pair of plumes above his horns, and the symbol of linen bandages in front of him; he is an image of TATHENEN, of whom he is the "fourth form," or .

The text which refers to these reads:

Second form of Tathenen. Third form of Tathenen. Fourth form of Tathenen.

 “Those who are

In the upper register are five Circles of the Ṭuat, and a door, which may be thus described:—

1. This Circle, which is called SESHETA, is entered through a door with the name of ṬES-NEB-TERER . . . ,

 , and in it are seated:—

1. The image of TEM,  | , wearing the White Crown.

2. The image of KHEPERĀ,  |  | .

3. The image of SHU,  |  | .

Each of these is seated upon an instrument for weaving,

CHAPTER IX.

THE NINTH DIVISION OF THE T̄UAT, WHICH IS CALLED BEST-ĀRU-ĀNKHET-KHEPERU.

HAVING passed through the EIGHTH DIVISION of the T̄uat, the boat of the sun arrives at the NINTH DIVISION, which is passed through by the sun during the NINTH HOUR of the night. The opening text reads :—

“ This great god taketh up his place in this Circle,

“and he addresseth words from his boat to those who “are in it. The divine sailors join the boat of this “great god in this City. The name of the gate of this “City through which this god entereth and taketh up
 “his place on the stream which is in this City is SAA-“EM-KĒB; the name of this City is BEST-ĀRU-ĀNKHET-“KHEPERU; the name of the Hour of the night which “guideth this great god is T̄UATET-MĀKETET-EN-NEB-S.”

The line of text which runs above the upper register reads:—

“The hidden Circle of Āmentet, through which this “great god travelleth and taketh up his place in the “T̄uat. If these things be made with their names “after the manner of this figure which is depicted at “the east of the hidden house of the T̄uat, and if a “man knoweth their names whilst he is upon earth,
 “and knoweth their places in Āmenti, [he shall attain

“to] his own place in the Ṭuat, and he shall stand up
 “in all places which belong to the gods whose voices
 “(or, words) are maāt, even as the divine sovereign “chiefs (tchatcha) of Rā, and the mighty ones of the “palace (Pharaohs?), and [this knowledge] shall be of “benefit to him upon earth.”

In the middle register are:—

1. The boat of the sun, with the god ÁFU standing under a canopy formed by the serpent MEHEN.

The Boat of Áfu, the dead Sun-god, in the Ninth Hour.

2. The Twelve Sailors of Rā, each of whom stands upright, and holds a paddle in his hands; their names

 “through this City, and his sailors join his boat “wherein he is in his hidden form of MEHEN. This “great god addresseth words to the gods who dwell
 “in this City, that is to say, to the gods who are the “sailors of the boat of Rā and to those who will “transport [him] through the horizon so that he may “take up his position in the eastern Hall of heaven.
 “Their work in the Tuat is to transport Rā through “this City every day, and they take their stand by the “stream in this City whereon [saileth] the boat, and “it is they who give water with their paddles to the “spirits who are in this City, and they sing hymns to “the Lord of the Disk, and they make to arise [his] “Soul in his forms by means of their hidden words
 “every day.”

3. A bearded, man-headed hawk, wearing plumes and horns on his head, seated on a basket or bowl; his name is MUTI-KHENTI-TUAT, .

4. The ram-god NESTI-KHENTI-TUAT, couchant on a basket or bowl.

THE TENTH DIVISION OF THE TŪAT, WHICH IS CALLED METET-QA-UTCHEBU.

HAVING passed through the NINTH DIVISION of the TŪat, the boat of the sun arrives at the TENTH DIVISION, which is passed through by the sun during the TENTH HOUR of the night. The opening text reads:—

“This great god taketh up his place in this Circle,
“and he uttereth words to the gods who dwell therein.

“The name of the door of this City through which this great god entereth is AA-KHERPU-MES-ĀRU. The name of this City is METET-QA-UTCHEBU. The name of the hour of the night which guideth this great god to the hidden paths of this City is ṬENTENIT-UḤESET-KHAK-ĀBU.”

In the middle register are:—

1. The boat of the sun, in which the god stands under a canopy formed by the serpent Mehen; he holds the symbol of life in his right hand, and a serpent, which serves as a sceptre, in his left.

2. A large two-headed serpent called THES-ḤIRĀU, , which is depicted in the form of a pair of horns deeply curved towards the ends where they meet. The head which faces to the right has on it a White Crown, and is directly opposite to the face of a goddess, who also wears a White Crown, and is called

HERT-ERMENT, ; and the head which faces the left has on it a Red Crown, and is directly opposite to the face of a goddess, who also wears a Red Crown and is called SHEMERTI, , i.e., "She of the two bows. The serpent is provided with two pairs of legs; one pair is turned to the right and the other to the left

Within the curve is a large hawk, which bears the name of HERU-KHENTI, .

3. A boat, wherein lies at full length the serpent ANKH-TA, .

"To those who are in this picture with their arrows,
 "and to those with javelins, and to those with their
 "bows, who are in the presence of this great god, and "who make their appearance with him in the Eastern
 "Horizon of the sky, this great god saith:—Speed ye "your arrows, make ready your javelins, bend your
 "bows, and destroy ye for me my enemies who are in "darkness: be ye at the portal of your horizon, and "follow ye in my train when I unite myself to those "who make adoration to my flesh in the MĀNṬIT BOAT.
 "It is they who drive back the SEBI serpent of "NEḤA-ḤRĀ in the thick darkness, and when this "great god passeth on into the Eastern Hall of the "horizon, they also travel on in the train of this god."
 Over the upper register runs a line of text, which reads:

“City, so that he may come forth into the Eastern “Horizon of the sky.”

3. Two serpents, standing on their tails, which cross each other near their tips. Their heads and necks are bent at right angles to their bodies, and in the space between them rests a disk; the serpents are called

P-ankhi.

Kheper-ankh.

MENENUI,  w. To the right is a youthful goddess wearing a White Crown, and to the left is a similar goddess wearing a Red Crown; each holds the index finger of one hand to her mouth, after the manner of children, and each is depicted in the act of sitting, but lacks a seat or throne.

4. An axe, symbol of "god," standing on the handle end, with a disk resting on the side edge of the head. On the left is a goddess who is steadying the axe with her left hand, and on the right is a goddess who is steadying the disk with her right hand; the names of the goddesses are NETHETH, , and KENAT, , respectively. Each goddess is depicted in the act of sitting, but lacks a seat or throne. The text which refers to these scenes reads:

"Of those who are in this picture [the two goddesses
 "on] the left come forth from the double serpent
 "MĀNENUI, and [the two] on the right come forth from
 "the axe SETFIT. They gather together the souls on "earth, and they make pure the mighty spirits in the "Tuat by the hidden figures which are therein, and
 "[afterwards] they swallow their own spirits (or, souls)
 "after this great god hath passed them by."

5. Eight goddesses, who stand upright, and hold in their right hands, and  in their left; they face the ape god, whose tail is stiffened out under him in such a manner as to form a seat for him, and who holds the utchat, or eye of the sun, on his two hands. The first four of the goddesses have each the head of a lioness and are called:—

1. SEKNET, .

2. MENKERT, .

Sekhet.

Menkert.

Huntheth.

Usrit.

3. HUNTHETH, .

4. USRIT, .

The remaining four have the heads of women, and have the names of:—

1. ABET-NETERU-S, .

2. ARIT-TATHETH, .

3. ĀḤĀT,

4. THEMATH-ERMEN (?),

The name of the ape-god is ĀF(?) -ERMEN-MAAT-F, . Concerning the goddesses the text says:

Abet-neteru-s.

Ārit-Tatheth.

Āḥāt.

Themath-ermen (?).

"To these goddesses who make the “reckoning of his Eye for Horus in the T̄uat, Rā saith :— “Make ye strong your spirits by means of [your] “strength, and make the reckoning of his Eye for Horus, “stablish ye his Eye for Horus, and make ye Horus to “unite himself to his emanation (or, to that which “floweth from his eyes), praise ye Horus by reason of his “Eye, and stablish ye his first Eye which is in the “hands of the god ĀF-ERMEN-MAAT-F, and utter ye your “words on behalf of Horus, O ye who cause to come “into being the becomings of created things.’ The work

 “which they do in the T̄uat is to utter words on behalf “of his Eye for Horus, and to cause radiant splendour
 “to proceed from it each day.”

6. Eight gods, each of the first seven of whom holds ☩ in his right hand, and ☩ in his left; their names are :—

1. ERMENUI, ☩, who has the double object in the place of a head.

“by their names, they unite themselves and come into “life in the shades which are in the mouth of the great “god, and their souls journey onwards in his train to “the horizon. They strip the bodies of the dead of “their swathings and break in pieces the bodies of the “enemies [of Rā], and they give the order for their “destruction in the Ṭuat.”

In the lower register are:—

Horus.

1. The god Horus, hawk-headed and wearing a disk, leaning on a staff.

2. Five<sup>1</sup> lakes of water, in each of which is submerged a male form; these figures are called the “submerged,”

3. Three<sup>2</sup> lakes of water, in each of which is a male form swimming, turned over on his breast; these are called the “swimmers,”

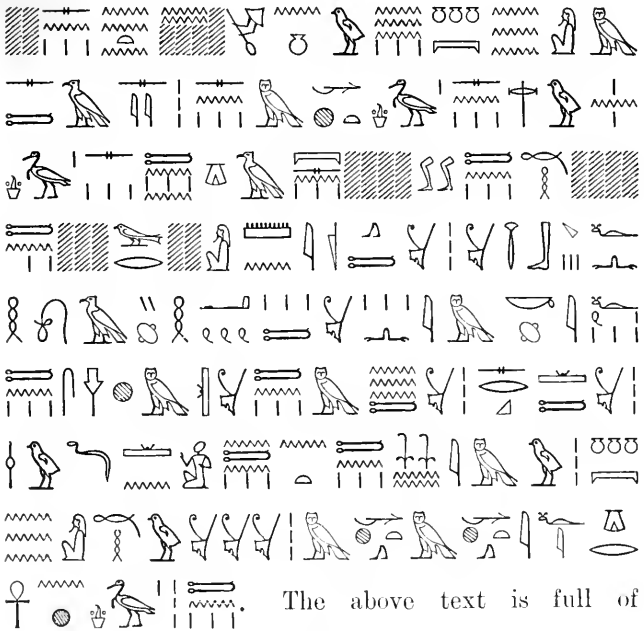

4. Four lakes of water, in each of which is a male form floating on his back; these are called the “floaters,”

7. A sceptre, , surmounted by the head of Set; its name is SET-NEHES, , i.e., “Set who wakens.”

CHAPTER XI.

THE ELEVENTH DIVISION OF THE T̄UAT, WHICH IS CALLED RE-EN-QERERT-ÂPT-KHATU.

THE ELEVENTH DIVISION of the T̄uat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the ELEVENTH HOUR of the night, is introduced by three lines of text, which read:—

“up his position in this Circle, and he addresseth

“words unto the gods
 “who are in it. The “name of the gate of “this City through “which this great god “hath entered is “SEKEN - T̄UATIU; the “name of this City is “RE - EN - QERERT - APT - “KHATU; the name of “the hour of the night “which guideth this “great god is SEBIT - “NEBT - UÅA - KHESFET - “SEBÅ - EM - PERT - F.”

In the middle register are:—

1. The boat of the sun, in which stands the god under a canopy formed by the body of the serpent Mehen; on his head are horns and a disk. On the high prow of the boat is a disk, encircled by a uraeus, which is called PESTU, . The text reads:

The Boat of the Sun in the Eleventh Division of the Tuat.

“god journeyeth on his way in the City in this picture,
 “and his sailors, who are the gods, guide him into the “eastern horizon of the sky. The star PESTĒT which “is on its boat guideth this great god into the ways of “the darkness which gradually lightens, and illumineth
 “those who are on the earth.”

2. Twelve gods, who march before the boat of the god bearing the serpent MEḤEN on their heads; their names are:—

1. MEḤNI, .

2. SEMSEM, .

3. SEKHENNU, .

4. SHETU, .

 “ the Hall of the Eastern Horizon.’ Their work is to “ make the serpent Mehen to travel to the Eastern Hall
 “ of the Horizon, and they unite themselves to their habi“ tations after this great god hath passed through the “ darkness and hath taken up his place in the horizon.”

3. The serpent SEM-SHET, . On his back rests the Red Crown, and in an angle of it is a human head.

4. The serpent SEM-NEBTHET, . On his back rests the White Crown, from each side of which projects a bearded human head. The text reads:

 “ [These are] the hidden images of “Horus which are at the second door of the thick “darkness, [on] the holy road to Sait (Saïs). When “this great god crieth out to them (i.e., to the two “serpents) these hidden heads make their appearance, “and then they swallow their own forms (i.e., they “disappear).”

5. NEITH of the phallus, , wearing the Red Crown.

6. NEITH of the Red Crown, , wearing the Red Crown.

 "of his voice, and it is they who guard the holy
 "gate of the city of SAIT (Saïs), which is unknown,
 "and cannot be seen, and cannot be looked at."
 Above the upper register is a line of text, which reads back; above the god is written "TCHET-S," i.e., "its body," and by the tail of the serpent is SHEṬU,  .

The text reads:

 “ whose breaths are of the utterances of my mouth, “ which giveth life and ye speak therewith, whose “ offerings are on my boat whereon your souls live, ye
 “ who have water at the source (?) of NU wherein the “ dwellers in the Ṭuat wash with shouts of joy, perform
 “ that which it is your right to do, and let your souls “ be in the following of [my] created things.’ Their “ work in the Ṭuat is to make to advance the hidden “ things of this great god to the hidden House each “ day when they appear with this great god in the “ upper heaven.”

16. A goddess, seated on the backs of two serpents,

“Those who are in this picture have their arms on the “earth and their feet and legs in the darkness. When “this great god crieth to them in their own bodies, “they utter cries; they do not depart from their “places, but their souls live in the word of the forms “which come forth from their feet every day. When “the shades appear, the winds which are in the Ṭuat “cease from the faces of these goddesses.”

In the lower register are:—

1. Horus, hawk-headed and wearing a disk, leaning with his right shoulder upon a long staff, and holding in his left hand a boomerang, one end of which is in the form of a serpent's head.

2. A huge serpent, called the "Everlasting SET," standing upon his tail.

3. A large pit, with a vaulted roof, filled with fire, wherein "the enemies,"  of Rā are being consumed; the name of the pit is HATET-KETITS, Horus and the serpent Set-heh.

The pit of fire, Hatet-ketits.

The pit of fire, Ḥaṭet-ḥanṭu-s.

and is presided over by a goddess with the head of a lioness, who holds in her hands a large knife, and pours fire into it from her mouth.

4. A smaller pit, with a vaulted roof, filled with fire, wherein "the enemies" are being consumed; the name of the pit is ḤAṬET-ḤANṬU-S, and it is presided over by a goddess with a human head, who holds in her hands a large knife, and pours fire into it from her mouth.

5. A pit similar to the above, wherein "the souls," are being consumed; the name of the pit is ḤAṬ-NEKENIT, and it is presided over by a goddess as in No. 4.

The pit of fire, Ḥaṭ-nekenit.

6. A similar pit, wherein “the shades (or, shadows)” are being consumed; the name of the pit is ḤAṬ-NEMMĀT-SET, , and it is presided over by a goddess as in No. 4.

7. A similar pit, wherein “the heads,” , are being consumed; the name of the pit is ḤAṬ-SEFU-S, .

The pit of fire, Ḥaṭ-nemmat-set.

The pit of fire, Ḥaṭ-sefu-s.

, and it is presided over by a goddess as in No. 4.

8. A very large pit, with a vaulted roof, filled with fire, in which are immersed, head downwards, four male figures: the name of this pit is ANT-SEKHEṬU, , i.e., “the valley of those who are turned upside down.”

9. Four goddesses, each one with the sign for "eastern desert" on her head; their names are:—

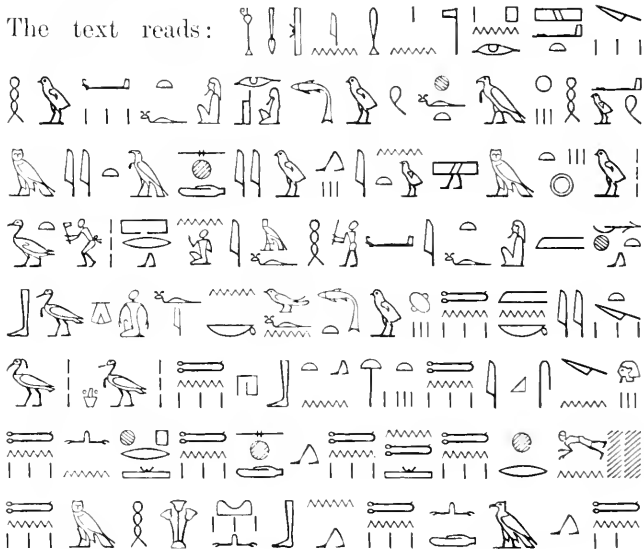

1. PESI, .

2. REKHIT, .

3. HER-SHÂU-S, .

4. SAIT, .

10. The god HER-UTU-F, , holding a sceptre, , in his left hand, and the sign of "life," , in his right.

The text reads:

The pit of fire, Aut-sekhetu.

Her-shau-s.

Rekhit.

Pesi.

The god Her-utu-f.

Sait.

“The Majesty of this god uttereth the decree, [say“ing]:—‘Hack in pieces and cut asunder the bodies “of the enemies and the members of the dead who “have been turned upside down, O my father Osiris
 “. . . . . and let me come forth from it. My “father having [once] been helpless hath smitten you,

 “he hath cut up your bodies, he hath hacked in pieces
 “your spirits and your souls, and hath scattered in “pieces your shadows, and hath cut in pieces your “heads; ye shall never more exist, ye shall be over“thrown, and ye shall be cast down headlong into the “pits of fire; and ye shall not escape therefrom, and “ye shall not be able to flee from the flames which are “in the serpent SET-HEH.

““The fire of HERT-KETTUT-S is against you, the “flames of HERT-HATU-S are against you, the blazing “heat of HERT-NEMMAT-S is against you, HERT-SEFU-S “is against you, and she stabs at you, and hacks you “in pieces, and cuts you up in such wise that ye shall “never again see those who are living upon the earth.’

“As for those who are in this picture in the Tuat, it “is the Majesty of HERU-TUATI who giveth the order
 “for their slaughter each day.

“Those who are in this picture, who are depicted “with the enemies of Osiris of the Tuat, and with “HER-UTU-F, who is the guardian of this Circle, live by “means of the voice of the enemies, and by the cries of “entreaty of the souls and shadows which have been “placed in their pits of fire.”

CHAPTER XII.

THE TWELFTH DIVISION OF THE TUAT,
WHICH IS CALLED THEN-NETERU.

THE TWELFTH DIVISION<sup>1</sup> of the Tuat, which is passed through by the Sun-god during the TWELFTH HOUR of the night, is introduced by three lines of text, which read :—

See Lanzone, Domicile, pl. v.

“The hidden Circle in the Tuat wherein this great “god is born; he cometh forth into the pool of Nu,
 “and he taketh up his place in the body of Nut.
 “Whosoever shall make a copy thereof according to “the copies which exist in writing upon the east [wall

The Boat of the Sun in the last hour of the Night.

“of] the palace, and shall know it upon earth, it shall “act as a magical protector for him both in heaven and “upon earth.”

In the middle register are:—

1. The boat of the sun, in which stands the god under a canopy formed by the body of the serpent Mehen; on his head are horns and a disk. In the fore part of the boat is the beetle of KHEP[R]Ā, i.e., Kheperà, which takes the place of the solar disk that rested on the prow of the boat in the Eleventh Hour.

“This great god in this picture journeyeth along “through this City by means of the faithful servants “(imkhiu) of this hidden image ANKH-NETERU. His “gods draw him along by a cord, and he entereth into “his tail and cometh forth from his mouth, and cometh
 “to the birth under the form of Kheperà, and the gods
 “who are in his boat [do] likewise. He taketh up his “place on the face of the hidden image of the horn (or, “forehead) of the sky at the end of the thick darkness,
 “and his hands seal up the Tuat. Then this great god “taketh up his position in the Eastern Horizon of “heaven, and Shu receiveth him, and he cometh into “being in the East.”

2. Twelve gods, who are occupied in towing along the boat of the Sun, each with his head turned behind him and looking at the boat; their names are:—

1. ḤERU, .
2. SHEMSU, .
3. THENĀ,  .
4. BEQ,  .
5. ĀU-ĀNKHIU-F,    | .
6. SEBEḤU-F,    | .
7. ĀḤĀ-RER,   .
8. ĀMKHUI,  .
9. NEB-ĀMAKH,  .
10. SEKI (?),   .
11. ḤEQ-NEK-MU,     .
12. ĀU,  .

The text which refers to these reads:

“Those who are in this picture draw this great god through the tail (or, bowels) of the serpent Ānkh-neteru. The loyal servants of Rā who are in his following are the product of his hands, and they are born on the earth each day after the birth of this great god in the eastern portion of the sky. They enter into this hidden image of Ānkh-neteru in the form of loyal servants, and they come forth in the renewed forms of Rā every day. When they tarry upon the earth it is an abomination to them to utter the name of the god.”

3. The monster serpent KA-EM-ĀNKH-NETERU,

4. Twelve goddesses, who are occupied in towing the boat of the sun through the body of the serpent KA-EM-ĀNKH-NETERU; each has her head turned behind her, and is looking at the boat. Their names are:—

1. STAT, .

2. KHERU-UTCHAT, .

- 3. KHET, .
- 4. SPERT-NETER-S, .
- 5. NEBTĀMT, .
- 6. NEB-TCHETTA, .
- 7. ḤETIT, .
- 8. ĀNKHET-ERMEN, .
- 9. KHERUT-ṬEP (?), .
- 10. ḤETEP-EM-KHUT-S, .
- 11. BET-NETER-S, .
- 12. ṬESER-ĀBT, .

The text relating to the serpent reads:

Twelve gods of the last hour of the night

Twelve goddesses of the last hour of the night.

“from the serpent ĀNKH-NETERU, and they tow this “great god into the sky, and lead him along the ways “of the upper sky. It is they who make to arise in “the sky gentle winds and humid breezes, and it is “they who order those who live [upon earth] to place “themselves in the great boat in the sky.”

In the upper register are:—

1. Twelve goddesses, each of whom stands upright, and bears on her shoulders a serpent which belches forth fire from its mouth; their names are:—

Six goddesses with fiery serpents.

1. NEFERT-KHĀU,
2. KHET (?) - UAT-EN-IRĀ,
3. NEET-SESHESH-TA,
4. NEFERT-ĪER-ṬEPT,
5. SEUATCHET-ĀṬEBUI-PET,

6. HĀT-EM-TAUI-S,
7. QAT-EM-SEPU-S,
8. SEKHET-EM-KHU-S,
9. HĀĀT-EM-SEPU-S,
10. KHET-ĀNKH(?) -F,

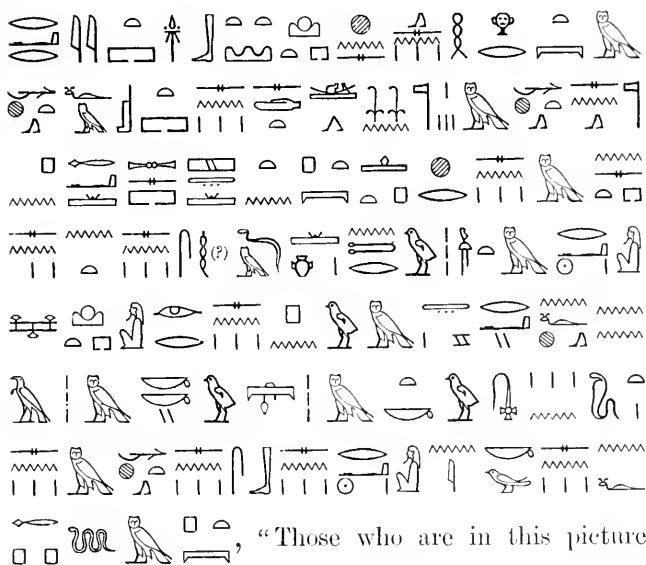

Six goddesses with fiery serpents.

11. PERT-EM-ĀP,

12. NEBT-ĀR-EM-UĀA-ĀBT,

The text reads:

“with their own bodies, and from whom their uraei “emerge, are in the following of this great god when “he setteth out for this City. They follow after this “god, and the flames which issue from their mouths “drive away Āpep on behalf of Rā into the Hall of “the East of the Horizon. They journey round about “the upper heavens in his following [remaining] in “their places, and they restore these gods after this “great god hath passed by the hidden chamber of the “sky, and then they take up their positions [again] in “their own abodes. They give pleasure to the hearts “of the gods of Āmentet through Rā-Ĥeru-khut, and “their work upon the earth is to drive away those who “are in the darkness by the flames of their uraei which “are behind them, and they guide Rā along, and they “smite Āpep for him in the sky.”

2. Twelve gods, each of whom stands upright, and has both hands raised in adoration before him; their names are:—

1. NEB-ĀNKH,

2. HI,

Six gods who praise Rā at dawn.

3. NEB-ĀA,

4. NEB-ṬUAT,

5. NETCHEM-ĀB,

6. ḤĀM,

7. UA-ĀB,

8. ḤUNNU,

9. SENSÁBT, .

10. MA-ṬĒPU-NETERU, .

11. THES-ṬĒPU-NETERU, .

12. HĒKENU, .

The text reads: .

Six gods who praise Rā at dawn.

“Those who are in this picture sing praises unto this “great god from dawn, when he taketh up his position “in the Hall of the east of the sky. They say unto “Rā, ‘O thou who art the producer of [thine own] “birth, who dost bring into being [thine own] being, “[lord of] homage of every soul . . . ., Heaven be“longeth to thy soul, which taketh up its place therein, “and the earth belongeth to thy body, thou lord of “homage. Thou sailest over the Horizon, thou takest
 “up thy place in thy shrine, the gods in their bodies “praise thee; descend thou into the sky and take thou “thy two souls through thy magical protectors.’ The “work of these gods in the Ṭuat is to praise this great “god, and they stand in this City and they count up
 “(or, verify) the gods of the country of Māket (i.e., “Sinai). They descend(?) to earth [before] Rā after “he hath taken up his position in the sky and doth they have in the Tuat [belong to] this Circle.”

“Those who are in this picture with their paddles drive “Ānep to the back of the sky, after the birth of the god.
 “Their work is to hold up the Great Disk in the Eastern “Horizon of the sky every day. Behold the serpent “SENMEKHEF which burneth up the enemies of Rā at “the dawn! These gods go round about the heights of “heaven in the following of this great god every day,
 “and they receive their protection for this Circle.”

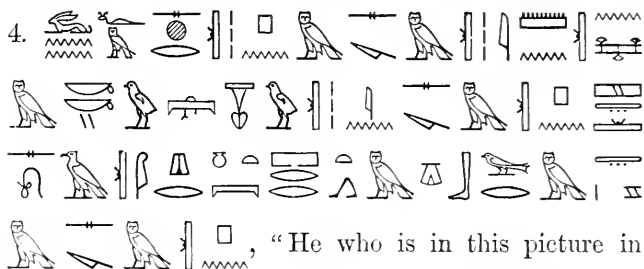

“Those who are in this picture are behind
 “the image of Osiris, who is over the thick darkness.
 “These are the words which this god saith unto them “after this great god hath journeyed by it:—‘Life [to “thee], O thou who art over the darkness! Life [to “thee] in all thy majesty! Life [to thee], O governor “of Amentet, Osiris, who art over the beings of “Amentet! Life to thee! Life to thee! O thou who “art over the Ṭuat, the winds of Rā are to thy nostrils,
 “and the nourishment of Kheper is with thee. Thou “lives, and ye live. Hail to Osiris, the lord of the “living, that is to say, of the gods who are with Osiris,
 “and who came into being with him the first time.’
 “Those who are behind this hidden Image in this “Circle wherein he liveth have their nourishment
 “from the words of this god in their own Ṭuat.”

The exit of Rā from the Tuat, i.e., Sunrise.

“He who is in this picture in
 “the invisible form of Horus in the thick darkness,
 “is the hidden image which Shu lifteth up beneath
 “the sky, and KEB-UR cometh forth in the earth in “this image.”

24. The end of the Ṭuat, which is represented by a semi-circular wall or border formed of earth and stones, or perhaps granite. At the middle point of this border is the disk of the sun which is about to rise on this world, and joined to it is the head of the “image of Shu,” , with his arms stretched out along the rounded border of the Ṭuat. Above his head is the beetle, symbol of Khep[er], , who has emerged from the boat of the Sun-god, and below is the “image of Af,” , that is to say, the body of the night Sun-god, which has been cast away.
